

FAMILY HEALTH CENTERS CENTROS DE SALUD FAMILIAR

Accredited since 2001

The Honorable Nancy Pelosi
Speaker of the House
235 Cannon HOB
Washington, DC 20515

November 6, 2009

Dear Speaker Pelosi:

Thank you for your continued leadership and efforts to advance health care reform legislation. We, Family Health Centers, commend the House for taking the historic step of introducing the Affordable Health Care for America Act (H.R. 3962). We are pleased that the bill incorporates several crucial components to reforming our nation's health care system and achieving quality health outcomes for our communities, as we've detailed below.

Inclusion of Public Option

We are pleased that the House bill includes a public health insurance option. With premiums rising at twice the rate of wages, working class families require an affordable health insurance option that will provide comprehensive benefits and quality health care services. The public option would provide critical competition and choice for consumers purchasing health insurance in the Exchange, and help ensure accountability and transparency in this new insurance market. The public option will also help drive down costs among all competing health insurance plans in the Exchange, ensuring that the uninsured and underinsured can access affordable health insurance for themselves and their families. Accordingly, we commend the inclusion of a public health insurance plan option, and strongly support its inclusion in any health reform legislation.

Expands Medicaid Coverage and Programs

H.R. 3962 will leverage the strength of the Medicaid program and expand Medicaid access. Medicaid is a particularly vital source of care for low-income Latinos and for women of reproductive age. In Okanogan County, Washington, nearly seventy-five percent of Latinos and nearly half of the population live in poverty.

By expanding Medicaid eligibility to individuals under age 65 (i.e. children, pregnant women, parents, and adults without dependent children) with incomes up to 150% of the federal poverty level, and offering Medicaid to all newborns, the House bill promises to offer quality health care coverage to a broader class of the population.

Investment in New Public Health Investment Fund

We are also pleased the House bill authorizes an additional $12 billion increase to the Community Health Center program over 5 years through the Public Health Investment Fund, which will allow health centers expansion to serve up to 20 million new patients by 2015. The recently released George Washington University report indicates that increasing health center capacity by 20 million new patients will generate $212 billion in additional health system savings. The Federal Medicaid savings from this expansion would exceed $59 billion. These estimated savings do not include the savings for the 19 million patients already being served by the health center program. In Okanogan County, FHC serves over 12,000 unique patients but there is an estimated additional 4,000 individuals that currently do not have access to care. The commitment to the health center program helps ensure every American with access to comprehensive, affordable quality care.

Fair Treatment of Immigrants

The House bill rightly adopts the existing verification requirements used under Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) for participants to qualify in the Health Exchange.

Health care reform must focus on promoting greater access to health care coverage and avoid instituting systems that would create additional barriers that prevent minority and immigrant communities from receiving the care they need. Current citizenship verification measures have already prevented many Americans from accessing Medicaid. Studies have shown that such requirements have a disparate impact on American citizens who are low-income individuals, minorities, women, or elderly—populations that lack ready access to proper citizenship documentation or photo identification. Thus, we are pleased that the House bill does not do more harm to these communities by imposing additional verification requirements for participants in the Exchange.

However, we are disappointed to see that the House bill does not eliminate the five-year waiting period imposed on legal immigrants to access Medicaid and other public benefits, such as CHIP. Legal immigrants contribute to this nation's workforce, pay their fair share of taxes, and work towards achieving citizenship. Providing this population with access to affordable, quality care will mean a stronger national workforce and less reliance on emergency room visits, the costs of which would be shifted to all others with health insurance.

Aims to Eliminate Health Disparities

We commend the House for including provisions that address racial and ethnic disparities in health outcomes. Health disparities continue to persist in Latino communities. Diabetes occurs at a disproportionately high rate within the Latino population. These disparities demonstrate how critically important it is to ensure that health reform includes provisions designed to eliminate health disparities among racial and ethnic minorities.

Many of the Latino community are limited English proficient (LEP). We are glad that the House bill includes provisions to address language barriers that reduce access to health care, jeopardize the quality of care and increase the risk of medical errors and adverse outcomes. H.R. 3962 provides an increase in the federal share of payments for adults in Medicaid for language services, and includes a study on the feasibility of developing Medicare payment systems for language services. The bill also provides demonstration grants to explore how Medicare can pay for culturally and linguistically appropriate services, and requires uniform standards for the collection of data on race, ethnicity, and primary language. We commend the House for its efforts to reduce racial and ethnic disparities.

Meaningful Insurance Industry Reform

Finally, we are pleased to see that the House bill includes provisions to meaningfully reform the health insurance industry to focus more on patients rather than profits. The House bill bars many common practices within the insurance industry, such as using gender and health status as premium rating factors.

As you continue to develop health care reform legislation, we urge you to ensure that any proposal takes these important steps to expand access to affordable health care choices and improve the health of Latino communities. We stand ready to join with you in pushing for enactment of such reform this year.

Sincerely,

Michael Hassing, MBA
